Webdesigner & Developer

September 2007
-present
A Designer/Developer for SIFT within the Practice Web division. Main duties include design, development, drupal theming and inhouse design work. I am currently leading a team researching mobile design/development, and integrating it in the Drupal platform.

Designer/Co-founder

Sep 2006
-present
A project which started off with a fellow student for our final Masters Project. This grew into a fully fledged company, Interactive Places. Interactive Places designs, writes and develops location-specific phone apps. Although I cannot commit to working with them full time I am still there when needed, acting as a kind of creative director.

Personal Statement

I'm an all-round designer with 6 years commercial experience. I pride myself on good design, good user experience, and clean mark-up. My passion is design; what used to be a means to making something that simply looked aesthetically pleasing, has changed to a much more specific and considered out-look. I strongly believe that a designer's first and foremost responsibilities are to listen, to interpret a client's needs and to act accordingly to create a feasible solution.

Philosophy

If CSS3 animations bring back splash pages and "works only in Browser X", I'm going to start punching kittens. Your move, world.
